Dr. J. Bradley Named New President

Board Of Trade Reports Successful Year In 1948

Twenty-eight members and guests sat down to luncheon in the Wainwright Hotel Cafe for the annual meeting of the Wainwright and District Board of Trade.

After these and the minutes of the last executive meeting had been read and approved, the chair called for the reports of the various standing committees.

W. Coleman in his report as treasurer showed the Board to be in good financial condition, and that while the general account was not large, both the celebration and sports accounts were in good financial condition.

Report of the Civic Improvement Committee was given by J. Mitchell, who referred to the street widening system which had been instituted, and the new hospital and P.M.C.

W. J. Huntington gave the report of the publicity committee, the chief activity of which had been the placing of welcome signs at the approaches of town on the highway.

Dr. Bradley in reporting for the celebration committee reported that their efforts had been rewarded with financial success. He stated that there was a feeling in town that the sports should be bigger, and said that the matter of holding an annual fair had been under consideration. The discussions in this regard had been in connection with class "C" fairs, as either class "A" or class "B" were at the moment beyond the scope of the district.

In this connection he felt that the sports day should be held as usual, and that the fair should be held separately. He also said that he felt that the fair and sports grounds should be in connection with the area, and had stated that he and Mr. Mitchell had

LIBRARY NOTES

Among the new books to be placed on the library shelf this first of February is "The Rich Man" by Henry Kreisler. Mr. Kreisler escaped from Austria in 1938 following the Nazi occupation. He went to Eugene and from there to Canada and with help was able to enter the University of Toronto. From there he completed his master's degree in English in 1944. Since then he has been lecturing at the University of Alberta.

"The Rich Man" is the story of a young man who after thirty years, returns to visit his family in Vienna—the immigrant boy-maker—returning home beautifully written, this first novel has a sensitivity and deep insight into motives and feelings of human beings, and in the readers' opinion, at least, is the best book that has come from our University.

Children of the Junior grades have enjoyed Esther Wood's books—"Silk and Satin Lane"—the story of a little Chinese girl—"Great Sweeping Day"—all about a little Japanese boy; and "Silver Wagon"—which tells the adventures of two small boys and their aeroplane trip in Canada. Now they will find just as interesting "Pedro's Coconut Skates"—Pedro lives in Manila and his curiosity gets him into many scrapes.

Boys of around 13 will like to read "Hawk of Hawk Clan"—a story of the Texas forest Indians before the days of the white man—their adventures and also their every-day life.

In this connection he felt that the sports day should be held as usual, and that the fair should be held separately. He also said that he felt that the fair and sports grounds should be in connection with the area, and had stated that he and Mr. Mitchell had been studying possibilities in this connection.

This is the official record of the proceedings of Council of the Town of Wainwright at its regular meeting held on Tuesday the 12th day of January, 1949, commencing at the hour of 8 o'clock p.m.

The members of Council present at this meeting were Mayor Robinson and Councillors Buckle, Wallace and Armstrong.

On motion of Councillor Wallace, that the minutes of last regular meeting of Council held on January 4th, be confirmed as written.

On motion of Councillor Buckle, that the Hon. D. B. McMillan, Minister of Public Works, dated January 13th, relative to setting back taken by his Department towards the improvement of condition, existing on the Wainwright-Vermilion Highway, be received and filed.

Councillor P. M. Armstrong submitted a detailed report relative to the work and money expended as at January 15th, 1949, on the Peace Memorial Arena and Informing Council that the sum of $100.00 had been paid over to the Town of Wainwright during the month of January as part receipts derived from the operation of this rink during that period. This report was clear and comprehensive and will be submitted to the Annual Meeting of the Peace Memorial Society to be held on January 31st, 1949.

On motion of Councillor Buckle, that the Town of Wainwright purchase some equipment for the skating rink as per Bill of Material presented, such material and work not to exceed the sum of $150.00.

On motion of Councillor Wallace, that the Secretary be instructed to contact the Director of Lands Department, Canadian National Railway, regarding the price of rental of land immediately west of the town, approximately fifty seven acres, and also to make enquiries relative to triangular twenty one acre parcel east of the town.

On motion Council was regularly adjourned.

Local Businessmen To Attend Convention

Mr. T. L. Shaw and Mr. J. Mitchell of Marshall-Well's stores at Edgerton and Wainwright, state that they are leaving shortly to attend the annual Marshall-Well's Stores Convention in Winnipeg, on February 1st, 2nd and 3rd.

Mr. Shaw and Mr. Mitchell said that by attending this Convention they will gain valuable information and knowledge relative to market conditions generally, together with latest merchandise trends in all parts of Canada. The Marshall-Well's Stores Program has had buyers in all large buying centres and sales, shows throughout the country and are displaying this merchandise at the Convention.

They will bring this latest merchandise to their customers and community. In addition, the Convention will be a check full of merchandising ideas and will enable them to offer you the best in merchandise, service and shopping pleasure in their stores.

FARM FORUM

The review meeting of Farm Forum was held jointly by the Gerald and Ascent groups in the Masonic Hall, Wainwright on Monday night.

At 8:30 the thirty five members and visitors listened to the radio broadcast which gave some interesting highlights of the recent Dairyman's Convention. The views of some of the principal speakers on margarine were rebroadcast.

The radio was supplied by courtesy of Iveson Electric.

At the close of the broadcast Mr. S. Robblee, D.A., showed N.F.B. films of the D.P.'s coming to Canada, the Royal Wedding, Canada Dances, Beyond the Town, (showing rural health practices) and Shelter Belts on the Prairie, also a Co-op film (also story) on the production and care of milk on the farm.

Mr. J. M. Bell of the National Film Board who was expected for this meeting did not come on account of the severe weather but sent films as indicated above. If the weather moderates he may be expected in the surrounding districts for the balance of the week as previously planned.

About 11 o'clock a delicious lunch was served by the members.

NEW APPOINTMENT

Albert Steinberg, violinist and concertmaster of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra, has been appointed as the conductor of the Wainwright Symphony Orchestra for the season. Before going to Vancouver a year ago to become a member of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra, Mr. Steinberg was for many years intimately connected with the musical life of Toronto, and was concertmaster of the Toronto Philharmonic Orchestra. He is well known to CBC audiences as a conductor of string orchestras and as a soloist in many recital series. The Wainwright Symphony Orchestra is heard alternately with the Wainwright Sunday Concert.

Wainwright H.S. Students' Elections

The Wainwright High School Students' Union held its semi-annual elections on Thursday, January 28. The candidates were as follows:

For President: Ken Cornfield, Lorna Harding
For Secretary: Phyllis Donovan, Frances Foster, Edith Halliwell, Jean Nicholson
For Treasurer: Frances Birch, Irene Rustand, Audrey Symes

Ken Cornfield was elected as new President. Lorna Harding was automatically Vice-President.

After the second count, Frances Foster was leading for Secretary. But on the third count she lost to Edith Halliwell.

The vote for Treasurer was very close—only seven votes separating the three candidates. Frances Birch was leading at this point. But when Audrey Symes second choice, Jean Nicholson, Rustand took the lead, 44 to 39.

On Friday morning elections were held with the result that the following room representatives were added to the Executive:

Grade IX—Colin Carter
Grade X—Chloe Wright
Grade XI—Jean Nicholson

Due to the number of absentees in Grade XII, that election was deferred.

The particular problems facing the new Executive are the Ice Carnival, the Year Book and the Graduation Program. Spring sports will come in for much attention about next May.

Canada got her first national park when, in 1885, ten square miles around Banff's hot mineral springs were set aside for public use.

Hold High Hopes for 1949

By F. W. Madson
It gives me great pleasure to announce the placings of the 1948 "Save the Soil" campaign and an outline of how the scoring was done and why it was done as such. I also take great pleasure in giving you the Judges Report, as given to me.

The 1948 Campaign was considered to be a very great success for the first year of operation, and with 24 farms entered it was above average for first year competitors.

The judging of the first year was on a straight elimination basis, that is the farm was scored on its condition as the judges found it at the time of visit, nothing being taken into consideration as to the number of years of operation future plans, season or otherwise.

The Scoring was based on the following:

1. SOIL CONSERVATION - 400 points
(a) Suitable crop rotation - 100
(b) Suitable windbreak - 100
(c) Freedom from soil erosion - 200
2. WEED CONTROL - 400 points
(a) Freedom from weeds - 200
(b) 100 deducted for any of Four Bad Weeds, 100 deducted for heavy infestation of Canada Thistle
(c) Condition of Summerfallow 100
(d) Weed condition in fence rows and road allowances - 100
3. LIVESTOCK PROGRAM - 100 points
(a) Quality of Livestock - 50
(b) Number per acre of stock - 50
(c) Appearance of Farm and

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Burningham wore a royal blue dress of crepe with white accessories. Mrs. Sheffield, the groom's mother, chose a navy blue dress with white accessories.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride where the rooms were prettily decorated with pink and white streamers. A reception followed for close friends and relatives. Mr. Benny Meyers proposed the toast to the bride and was ably responded to by the groom.

The young couple plan to make their home in Wainwright.

Eleven Visiting Rinks

Thirty-Nine Rinks Play In Wainwright Bonspiel

Wainwright Bonspiel is off to a good but frigid start, with a total of thirty nine rinks, of which eleven are visitors contending for the honors.

The prizes are indeed attractive, and will well repay the winners for the discomforts of the game.

Winners up to the time of going to press are as follows:

C.N.R. EMPLOYEE HURT IN FALL

Nick Kowalski, C.N.R. employee was severely hurt on Tuesday last when he fell from the top of a refrigerator car, and suffered fractured ribs as well as severe internal injuries.

Key conditions and the strong wind which was blowing at the time may have been responsible for his fall.

He is now a patient in Wainwright hospital where he was treated immediately after the accident.

Truck Catches Fire

The local fire brigade was called out on Saturday afternoon when a truck owned by Wm. Bligh caught fire in his garage. It is thought that the fire was started by the wiring of the truck. Little damage was done to the vehicle other than to the wiring. It is understood that the truck was covered by insurance.

COMPLICATED STATEMENTS

During the past number of years, the powers that be, have been making the financial statements of municipal districts, towns and village increasingly complicated, with the result that, today, the statement of the smallest municipal unit is a more cumbersome affair than that which formerly sufficed for a whole municipal district. While this may be an advantage to the various Government Authorities, it does result in a considerable amount of confusion in the minds of the ratepayers, as they pore over the lengthy documents in an effort to find out just what is being done with their money.

This is not because there is any real fault with the statements, or because of any particular ignorance on the part of the average citizen, but rather because of the fact that these statements have become so highly technical as to become rather difficult to fully understand unless one has some particular training. In fact it is about all that the average councillor can do to explain the figures they contain, and even secretaries and auditors have their difficulties in their preparation.

One of the most confusing features is the statement of receipts and payments as against the statement of revenue and expenditure. Valuable as it is to have both of these included, they are just a little hard to understand. Perhaps an explanation in these columns might be in order. The statement of receipts and payments includes all monies actually received or paid out during the year regardless of when the debt was incurred or the amount became collectible. Thus this statement is purely a cash statement, and while it naturally has great bearing on the cash position of the unit, it does not deal with one year's business as such. On the other hand the statements of revenue and expenditure deal with only the current year's business — they are parallel to the estimates established for the year, and show how the amounts collectible for the year tally up with the amount actually expended during the year.

Thus from the former statement we obtain the actual cash position of the unit, while from the latter we derive an idea of the basis on which the year's transactions were worked out.

I never knew a man in my life who could not bear another's misfortune perfectly like a Christian. — Alexander Pope.

THE STRONGER RIGHT

"Might is still right in this realistic world," says the Brooks Bulletin in a recent editorial and in this age of mass hysteria and monstrous weapons of war, force often seems to carry the most weight. The Bulletin points to two theatres of war to prove its statement, that in Palestine where the Stern gang has resorted to "arson, murder and torture" to win most of the country, and to Indonesia where the Dutch have delayed violence successfully against vain U.N. protests.

But is might always right? Brief chapters in history may support the claim, but over the long run history has shown quite the opposite. Take the career of Hitler. He ruthlessly liquidated opponents in his steady rise to power within Germany. He deployed might successfully there. Then he evoked a world war, and over-ran the low countries. In the early '40's, most observers would have been tempted to quote Hitler as a brilliant example of the "might is right" theme. Consequent events and the unshakable will of the people proved otherwise. So it is with all would-be conquerors of the world — Caesar, Alexander the Great. They enjoyed brief moments of power through methods of coercion, but their reign was ephemeral in nature.

Time has shown that moral force rather than brute force is the real and lasting right. God, the Maker and constant overseer of our strange world would not have it otherwise, else real values and the more enduring qualities of life would be nonexistent.

Driving through a remote bit of country in the West, I saw a farmer standing beside a dilapidated old car, waving a screwdriver. I stopped and he walked over to my car. "Ride me to town, mister?" he asked. "Sure," I replied. "Hop in. Having car trouble?" "Nope, never have any trouble with Decoy." "Decoy?" I repeated. "Yep, that's what I call her. You see, not many cars pass here—and they whizz by—and it used to take a couple of days to get a ride to town. So I got Decoy—paid five bucks for her. She ain't got no wheels on the ditch side, and her tires are full of sand and she ain't got no engine. But she's no trouble and she always gets me to town."

WEEKLY PUBLISHERS LOSE PIONEER

In the passing of Charles Clark, pioneer publisher of High River, Western Journalism has lost one of its most valiant workers, keenest students and finest newspapermen. Mr. Clark who was 79 at the time of his death, took an active interest in the profession right to the last few days of his life.

Mr. Clark, who founded the Okotoks Review and then started the High River Times in 1905, opened his Western News, paper Career in the fabulous days of Bob Edwards, who he succeeded as publisher at High River.

In addition to his journalistic contributions to the West, Mr. Clark fought in the Boer War, had a "fling" at ranching and through the years gave his effort freely to the welfare of the Weekly Newspaper Association by serving diligently in several offices.

During the recent convention of Weekly Newspaper Editors in Calgary, the proudest point to Mr. Clark was the fact that his son, Charles A., is well started along the trail of newspaper work which proved so interesting and colorful to himself. Mr. Clark, Sr., who saw his first issue of the High River Times roll off the press in December, 1905, watched the plant grow to a standard seldom equalled in Canada's weekly section. A modern brick building, centrally located and the best of equipment now enables the "Times" to service a community which owes much of its success to the far-sighted policy of the local publishers.

Encouraging young publishers through pointers, suggestions and inspiration, especially at convention times, was one of the services enjoyed by the publisher in the past few years.

THE WEEK AT OTTAWA

by the Canadian Press

All through the week Ottawa eagerly awaited announcement of final negotiations on the price of the 1948-49 Anglo-Canadian wheat contract.

There was much unofficial speculation that the price had finally been settled after several months of negotiation, but there still was lack of official confirmation that a $2-a-bushel price had been decided on and that the contract had been extended beyond its terminating point.

What had slowed up proceedings of the agreement which by the terms of the agreement should have been settled by Dec. 31, 1948, appeared to be Britain's drive to get the best price she could in view of her shortage of hard currency.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner, on the other hand, was reported to be doing his best to drive up the price beyond the $2-a-bushel mark, to gain compensation for the lower-than-world price Canada obtained from Britain during the first three years of the agreement.

Britain probably would not have refused to pay Canada a higher price for foodstuffs if she had a sufficient number of dollars, but her dollar status was such that she was seeking to complete trade pact with Russia, Yugoslavia and Poland instead.

Large Contracts
While these trade pacts were large — the one with Poland called for bilateral trade of about $1,000,000 for a five-year period — Canadian government authorities saw in them little harm to Canadian trade.

Britain had already completed contracts with Canada for bacon and eggs — for greater quantities than she would get from Poland — and momentarily would complete price agreement for the shipment of 140,000,000 bushels of wheat in the next harvest year.

Britain's dollar shortage was expected to meet in slight measure by Ottawa's release shortly of some $238,000,000 of the part of the $250,000,000 British loan frozen last spring.

It appeared last week that the understanding of the remaining British credits in Canada would be announced simultaneously with the wheat price.

Finance Minister Abbott appeared to be running up a budget last week that may well top the $700,000,000 mark by the time the fiscal year ends.

For the first nine months of the year he announced, the budgetary surplus was $409,949,522 — well above pre-war levels but slightly lower than the $446,196,656 reported for the same period a year ago.

The finance minister warned that Canadians must not expect the 1948-49 surplus to hit the $1,000,000,000 mark as some observers had believed.

Before the year is out, there would be a lot of expenditures made and these expenditures would probably offset revenues.

First Nine Months
For the first nine months of the year revenues came to $1,066,208,478 and expenditures to $1,346,253,710.

Mr. Abbott was optimistic about Canada's economic future.

He told a New York group last week "vast supplies of important raw materials" place Canada on the threshold of "further tremendous expansion of production and economic power."

These materials were the discovery of iron ore in northern Quebec and Labrador, uranium in the Canadian northwest, oil in Alberta and titanium ore in Quebec.

All of these materials were required by American industry. The minister hoped that by selling these Canadian products, Canada would be able to boost her supply of United States dollars.

Otherwise, there would be a gloomy future for the Dominion in her United States trade balance.

Mr. Abbott said: "We can no longer afford to buy $1,000,000,000 worth of goods from the U.S. and sell you (the U.S.) only $1,000,000,000 worth of goods in return."

To make these discoveries of raw materials, especially in the northern Quebec region, more accessible to the centrally-located industrial points, Defence Minister Chretien called for a speed-up in the development of the St. Lawrence seaway project.

In one way the joint Canadian-United States undertaking would be a defence measure since it would allow for an extra channel of transportation to carry supplies to the front and raw materials to the production centres.

The project was now under study by the state department of the United States. It would also come up for discussion at early meetings of the International Joint Commission.

Fish Tolls
Canadian railways handed coastal and inland fishermen a far last week by announcing proposed increases in fees by amounts ranging up to 40 per cent. The new rates came into effect Feb. 14.

These higher tolls will affect several million pounds of fresh and frozen fish annually moving from both the Pacific and Atlantic coasts to central Canadian markets.

One Maritime official in Ottawa estimated the railway move would increase shipping costs for Maritime shippers of fish by more than $100,000 a year.

In the eastern provinces about 14,000,000 pounds of fish a year — approximately 20 per cent of fish shipped from Maritime ports — would be hit by the higher transportation costs.

Only 40 per cent of Canadians have access to free public libraries, and these Canadians read on the average about five books per year.

THE THREAT IN BEING

An Edmonton editor has turned up an interesting and significant item whose implications neither he nor we would think of determining exactly. Running through the Canadian Social Credit, the weekly organ of the Social Credit party of Alberta, the editor discovered that the owners of 52 Alberta hotels had seen fit to buy advertising space in the issue reviewed.

Neither the discoverer of this interesting fact nor we ourselves would for a moment suggest that the Social Credit government had used any assuasion to create this sudden enthusiasm for its government sponsored advertising medium. We are not saying this ironically. We actually do not believe this to be the case. Yet there must have been something to induce "fifty-two hotel keepers to suddenly seek publicity in a small and rather local and not too influential publication."

The cynical will, of course, see a connection with the fact that the Alberta Liquor Control Board is a department of the government — the department that regulates the profitable provincial beer licenses. We do not agree with this suspicion. It is too much to believe that the government or any of its officials dashed about the province putting a fine in the ear of 52 hotel keepers, a sufficiently persuasive plea to explain the unusual unanimity in their advertising policy. How then to account for it?

Years ago Rear Admiral Alfred Y. Mahan of the United States navy enunciated a principle that has had a marked effect on naval strategy the world over. It was the theory of "The Fleet in Being." In simple terms this theory meant that "the presence of a strong force near the scene of possible action, even if wholly immobile, will produce a momentous effect upon the enemy's tactics."

Now the implication we might make is, that where the machinery of a threat exists, no one needs to issue demands. The implication of the threat "being" is sufficient to have momentous effects.

In this case it influenced the minds of 52 hotelkeepers whether the government so intended or not, or whether they overtly moved to that end or not. This is not a matter of great consequence.

RAILWAYMAN CALLS FOR

SANITY AND MORALITY
A call to railway men to "head the parade back" to business sanity and business morality, was sounded here Monday night by Raymond A. McNeill, vice-president and executive assistant for the Canadian National Railways in an address before the Canadian Railway club of Montreal.

"In almost every walk of life we see evidence of indifference, of poor workmanship and of seeming to get by with the least effort," said Mr. McNeill. "We need an awareness of moral obligations. The moral side of railroading demands that we do a little more than the rule book says, go a step or two beyond the mere performance of a day's work for a day's pay."

"It is an important side of the job, and it is not affected by lack of raw materials. A wide variety of evils and deficiencies can be offset by cultivating goodwill with goodwill, counteracting impatience with patience, soliciting friendship with friendship, earning courtesy with courtesy, and winning confidence by being trustworthy." — The Financial Post.

ASCOT

(Last week)

Relatives and some friends made a surprise call to the home of Mrs. Val-leau's last Thursday evening to help celebrate Glen's birthday. A very enjoyable evening was spent playing games, quizz, etc., followed by a lovely lunch.

Mrs. R. Hissett is to spend a few days in local hospital this week having a medical check up. We hope there is nothing serious Mrs. Hissett.

Audrey Jackson returned home last week from her visit at Marwayne.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Stenman and family were visitors at Albert Rodger's home on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hutchison were visitors at the Lucio home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Rodger and family were visitors at the Harrison home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed and Clarence Gul-leksen returned home from a month's holiday at the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Jackson report an enjoyable time at the sleighing party organized by Mrs. J. Peacock on Sunday evening.

Audrey Jackson spent the week-end in town visiting at the home of Ruth Wallace.

(This week)

We're glad to report Mrs. R. Haywood is feeling much better.

We are sorry to report Audrey Jackson has gone back to the University hospital in Edmonton where she is taking treatments for polio again.

Mrs. Glen Valleau is substituting for the teacher in the grade eight room in town.

I think everyone in the district will be glad when this spell of cold weather is over. I am quite sure no one is enjoying it.

In 1948, excluding Quebec, there were five thousand (1 in 10) employed school teachers in Canada who lacked the minimum professional qualifications.

Pee-Wee Hockey League

Zeniths (3) Warriors (3)

On Monday, January 17, the Ryan and Mitchell Zeniths and the School Warriors battled to a three-all draw in a hard fought Pee-Wee League game.

The Zeniths went out in front shortly after the opening when McGregor first one home on a pass from Koch;
but their lead was short-lived as the Warriors shot ahead on a goal of fort by May, both drives finding the rising high on the far side.

The middle frame was even with two goals being split. McGregor scored his second as he took a well directed pass from Koch from back of the goal, and beat Cook with an ankle-lifted shot.

Campbell got this one back as he trapped the Zeniths in their own area and coasted in with no one out Davidson to beat.

The game was drawing to a close before the Zeniths got back on equal terms. It was a scrappy sort of goal with Sheffield, Koch and McGregor all taking a whack at the puck before the latter slid it home. A little sharper clearing on the part of the Warriors might have averted this score. However a tie was a fair break for both clubs.

Summary
First Period: 1. Zeniths, McGregor from Koch; 2. Warriors, May; 3. Warriors, May.

Second Period: 4. Zeniths, McGregor from Koch; 5. Warriors, Campbell.
Third Period: 6. Zeniths, McGregor from Sheffield and Koch.

Officials: Harley and Sheffield.
Zeniths (3) Warriors (3)

The vagaries of the weather do not seem to dim the enthusiasm of the Pee-Wees for hockey. While their skates cannot come right and left and seek a cosy place by the fire, merely because the mercury plays a shade below normal, the kids realizing the Zeniths (3) Warriors (3) they have a covered rink refuse to let anything interfere with their hockey schedule.

Perhaps it was this that inspired the Warriors to play their best game of the season to date. While they lost by a 5-3 margin they were in the game right up to the final whistle.

Most of the scoring was done in the first period with Koch getting three and McGregor one for the Zeniths, while Carlier and Burns tallied for the Warriors.

The third period was hard fought all the way with the Hotel boys threatening to tie up the score on several occasions but never quite making it.
With but three minutes to go, Koch found himself in possession in centre ice with only two men back. He slid around these two with a deft bit of stickhandling, and placed the corner as he coasted in on the net.

Both Davidson and Adams, rival net-minders made many fine stops.

Summary
First Period: 1. Zeniths, Koch from Mc-Gregor; 2. Zeniths, Koch; 3. Hornets, Carlier from Burns; 4. Zeniths, Mc-Gregor; 5. Hornets, Burns; 6. Zeniths, Koch.

Second Period: 7. Hornets, Carlier
Third Period: 8. Koch.

"The Just shall live by faith" faith is not an achievement of man, if it were, it would merit a condition where God had proposed to man. Faith is wrought in us by God without our contributing anything towards that end. It is a perversion of the Gospel to treat the command to believe as a condition of man's justification and salvation.

Report of Edgerton School District Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Edgerton School District No. 2004 was held in the school on Wednesday, January 13, 1949, with Mr. A. E. Challenger presiding. Mr. R. Kingston being secretary.
The minutes of the last annual meeting were read. A. E. House moved they be adopted and O. Walrath seconded the motion.
The Principal, Mr. G. C. Welch then gave his report which appeared quite satisfactory. At the same time he made some recommendations and suggestions for the future development of learning at this school. In view of the large number of children in this district who would be enrolling in the very near future, and owing to some of the rooms being very overcrowded, he suggested that immediate thought be given to the consideration of adding another room and thus having a two room High School. L. W. Darby moved and A. E. Challenger seconded the motion and the recommendations.
The Chairman then announced the meeting open for 30 minutes for receiving nominations for the trustees vacated by Mr. L. W. Darby.
O. Walrath moved that an improvement in the wash room facilities be made. A. E. Challenger seconded the motion and the Secretary was instructed to write the Divisional Office in connection with this matter.
The only nomination for the position of trustee received was that of Mr. A. E. House, nominated by L. W. Darby and he was therefore declared elected as Trustee for the term of three years.
Mr. R. Kingston was re-elected secretary.
G. C. Welch moved a vote of thanks to the retiring trustee, Mr. L. W. Darby, for his past services, with A. E. Challenger seconding.
The meeting then closed.

GILES

A comment about the weather seems to be the usual and expected thing to start off with but we hope you won't mind if we don't say anything good about our weather this week. Giles is a wonderful place to spend your time but try below feels just as cold here as where else.
The picture shown, put on by the Alberta Wheat Pool was quite well attended considering the cold night.
Those present enjoyed the three pictures shown and an address by Mr. Dabnet and our pool delegate Mr. Murray. An interesting discussion followed. Lunch and coffee served by the ladies brought the evening to a fitting close.
Giles is proud of the fact that although the weatherman has been unkind to us and the flu has been making the rounds in the school, the attendance record has been well kept up. On some of the coldest mornings when we have given up hope of some of the younger ones showing up they would surprise us by bursting in bundled in scarves. Of course we had to hark back to our frost off to them to discover who they were.
Mr. and Mrs. James Waddell and family spent Sunday visiting at the Steve Shaban home. Alf Hugh spent the evening playing up the river with the Waddells. Kind of cold weather for that wasn't it, Alf?
Mrs. Wm. James arrived home from the hospital on Monday.
Ladies do you find it too cold to get your washing done up these days? Don't worry and fret, just send it along to George Koroluk. He has just become the proud owner of a new power washing machine and he tells us he is willing to oblige all who come.
Mrs. Mathewson spent Wednesday afternoon, visiting Mrs. Mike Traflet.
In answer to the "Butte" reporters query I can say I got back to Giles on New Year's Day in fine shape. I should have been in good shape considering we stopped to exercise a few times on the way—don't tell me pushing a car isn't exercise!

HEATH

We note with much interest the amalgamation of the Wainwright Star and the Charlton Chronicle, best wishes are extended to this newly organized newspaper. We hope that in the years that lie ahead this venture will become a very successful one.
Mr. H. Bouck returned home Tuesday of last week after visiting with his son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Davis of Lacrosse and other relatives at Carstairs and points south.
Sympathies of the district are extended to Mr. George Turnbull who returned from Saskatoon on Thursday where he attended the funeral of one of his brothers.
Mr. Raymond Hughes was taken to the hospital one day last week with a dislocated shoulder.
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Walker motored to Edmonton last week to visit Bert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Walker, also his sister Mrs. Mel Dixon. They are pleased to hear them report that Mrs. Dixon is making a wonderful recovery from infantile paralysis contracted last fall.
Miss Jean Huthers has accepted a position as bookkeeper in Edmonton.
Mr. H. Smith and daughter Mrs. Violet Davis of Edmonton, motored down to visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. Mosser and family, returning a week ago Monday. Unfortunately while driving here they rolled their car over on the highway a few miles east of Wainwright, however no one was hurt.

The Theatre Box was in Mel's Motors last week. Winners were Mrs. J. E. Challenger, Mrs. T. Bates, Mrs. Trimmer and Ken Challenger. This week the box is in the Red and White Store.

Celebrate Silver Wedding Anniversary

A large number of their many friends made a surprise visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Christensen on the evening of Friday, January 21st, their twenty fifth wedding anniversary. The celebration, which had been kept wonderfully secret, was organized by Mrs. M. Russell, Mrs. T. Basley and Mrs. C. Tunney with the complete co-operation of the congregation.
Mr. H. McGillivray acted as M.C. At the commencement a short service was conducted by the Rev. W. D. Silway, followed by lunch and the toast to the happy couple proposed by Mr. H. McGillivray. The remainder of the evening was spent in singing and dancing with two couples of musicians fully occupied. During the course of the evening Mr. and Mrs. Christensen were presented a case of silverware subscribed for by their friends and their daughter Betty, the only member of the family unable to be present, sent a lovely bouquet of flowers.
Mr. Chris Christensen came to Canada from Darwin, Lancashire, England, in 1923. Mr. Christensen coming from Copenhagen, Denmark at an early age in 1923. They were married in January 21st, 1924 at New Westminster, B.C. and farmed first at Assiniboia, Sask. coming to the Edgerton district in 1925. Their family, six in number, four boys and two girls, includes two sets of twins. The younger twins, Arlene and Arnold, attend Edgerton School, while Betty, twin sister of Hans, is at present in Edmonton. One could not meet a happier family than the Christensens.

LET YOUR HEAD SAVE YOUR FEET

R. P. Dixon, Supervisor of Dairy Herd Improvement, Alberta Department of Agriculture, suggests that many farmers fail to realize the amount of necessary work done during the course of the dairy chores. While it is true that there are limitations to the amount of change that can be effected, it is also true that every dairy farmer can make many changes that will simplify dairy labour chores.

"Can you trace your steps from the time you walk into the barn in the morning? Is the fork hanging in the corner where you can reach it to clean down or do you have to walk to the other end of the barn? When you go to feed hay is the hay fork handy where you want it or do you have to walk all the way back for a fork? How far is it to the milk house from the barn? Could this distance be reduced to cut down the amount of walking? Are you using a feed cart to eliminate walking back and forth to the chop bin? Do you follow a fast milking program thus reducing the amount of time spent in milking? These are only a few of the ways in which dairy chores can be made easier.

If you are planning to build a new dairy barn or remodel your present one, it will pay you to look into the advantages of the loosefeeding and milking parlour type of barn. With this type of housing it is possible to save up to 35% in cleaning and 25% in milking time. Useful information on modern buildings for the dairy herd is available from the Dairy Branch, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Mrs. H. P. SIGURDSON,
CHAUVIN — ALBERTA

Turn to the sports pages on any Canadian daily newspaper and chances are you'll be reading some writer's views on a new controversy.

There's nothing like controversy to whip up reader interest, and as soon as some sports official makes a debatable statement, thousands of words are written and gallons of printer's ink spilled either in favor of the comment or against it.

The latest tiff being tossed around is J. J. (Tim) McFadden's remark about modern hockey rules. McFadden, president of the Ontario Hockey Association, recently charged that hockey rules were made by the National Hockey League "to suit the American public, which doesn't know anything about hockey, and we have to suffer."

He also claimed that American fans would rather see a fight among the players than good passing, or good offensive and defensive play.

His remarks were not new. Many fans had claimed this a long time ago. But it was the first time any prominent hockey figure has been so outspoken, and it brought on a lively exchange of views.

Sports writers, hockey officials and fans immediately came through either with commendation or cat-calls for his stand.

Hockey officials, including owners, managers and coaches, were almost unanimous in disagreeing with him. Although several did go so far as to agree that refereeing did need tightening up.

President Clarence Campbell of the N.H.L. suggested that midge and juvenile players use a different set of rules, reverting to the old outside pass rule to better their stickhandling before graduating to the N.H.L.

"The rules are all right," he said. "Players are developing so quickly today that it may come to the point where we may have to institute two sets of rules. By that I mean youngsters in midge and juvenile hockey play the old rules of the outside pass—to improve their stickhandling before they move into professional hockey."

Bill Tobin, president of the Chicago Black Hawks, said that "there's nothing wrong with the rules. It's just the different interpretations placed on them by referees. Their inconsistency is appalling."

Majority of fans, too, disagreed with McFadden and found little fault with existing rules, although some felt there was too much rough play and too frequent whistle blowing.

The people who did find fault with the rules did so mainly because of the "scrubby" style of hockey today. They claimed they missed the pattern passing of the old days and the individual brilliance of the players.

There was too much high-sticking, boarding, charging and tripping, was the general opinion of most fans.

UNIQUE PROGRAM
TEACHES COOKERY
OVER TELEVISION
New York—The two cameras moved slowly toward the woman in cotton house dress and big apron in a flower-covered table.

"Good evening," she said with a smile. "Tonight I am going to make minestrone, lobster blague and fruit salad."

She immediately plunged into a half-hour of top-speed cooking with every detail covered by the searching eye of television cameras.

At the moment, Mrs. Diane Lucas is the only cooking star of television in the New York area, but there certainly will be others whipping up concoctions for the benefit of the harried housewife. It looks a natural for women's programs.

But one thing is essential—the lady who instructs must be an expert cook herself. It's one thing to talk or write recipes but it's quite another to demonstrate.

Mrs. Lucas is a good cook. She handles utensils with the skill of a surgeon, who never fumbles, and in spite of the speed required by the show she rarely messes up a performance.

"I think that most women are pretty good, plain cooks," she said, catching her breath after the show. "I like to give them a dash of gourmet cooking—something to brighten menus."

The dash of gourmet the other night was evident in each of the three demonstration dishes. Minestrone turned out to be an aristocrat of vegetable soup. Mrs. Lucas showed them the soup secret—a lot of garlic.

Thorough Coverage
The close-up followed the vegetables right into the stock, as Mrs. Lucas admonished cooks never to cook vegetables too fast when there was an onion amongst them.

"It makes the onion taste too strong," she said.

She made the tart pastry, showing how to mix it with the heel of the hand rather than the fingers. That technique makes lighter, flakier crusts. While the tarts were baking she went to work on the lobster.

Working like lightning, she demonstrated with a pair of scissors the best way to remove the claw meat without breaking it.

"We are always dreading that something awful will happen," she said later. "But we've been pretty lucky so far. The first show ran about 15 minutes overtime. Then a few weeks ago we neglected to get the oven hot enough for a soufflé. So I said, with great confidence, 'And here's the soufflé!' and opened the oven. There it was, all flat and runny! We did not properly on the next show."

Mrs. Lucas, British-born but now an American citizen, has an international reputation as a cook. She's a graduate of the famed Cordon Bleu in Paris, and one of the two persons in the world, outside the school itself, qualified to issue certificates in its name. She has written cook books, and runs a cooking school. But she's sold on television as the ideal shortcut to making every woman a gourmet-type cook.

TOYS MAY AFFECT CHILD'S FUTURE SAYS U.S. GROUP

Beverly Hills, Calif.—The toys your kids got for Christmas will determine how successful they'll be 20 years from now.

Believe that?
"Modern Mothers" do. They believe you would, too, if you knew what they do.

"Modern Mothers," which calls itself a "non-profit organization for better parenthood," is headed by Mrs. Catherine B. Marshall.

It aims to make the latest scientific information available to as many parents as are interested. But it differs in one important respect from most child-guidance groups. The organization has found a way to make this information available without cost to parents—and in a palatable form.

Modern Mothers, Inc., has a staff of physicians and psychiatrists who conduct research on the mental and physical problems of children. The results of their studies are sold to major advertisers, who have the information printed and distributed to their customers.

"We have found that people won't pay for information of this sort, even on a cost basis," says Dr. George R. Bach, director of Modern Mothers' psychological services. "They say, 'My child's not crazy—why does he need a psychiatrist?' but the fact remains that we as a nation need this kind of information more than we need any other. Almost every parent honestly believes he is doing a good job of raising his children. And almost every parent is wrong."

Traceable to Childhood
Without a single exception, every case of delinquency today is traceable to something that happened in the patient's childhood. The improper handling of children is the basis of the feeling of insecurity so prevalent in the world. This insecurity is the basis of war. War is a neurosis.

In these days of atomic weapons, we must eliminate war if civilization is to continue to exist. And the only way to eliminate war is to eliminate the childhood-begun neuroses which cause the feeling of insecurity.

Dr. Bach, professor of psychology at the University of Southern California, until he joined "Modern Mothers," says:

"The way you handle children now will determine how they act as adults. As minor an incident as a toy may plant a time bomb in your child which will not explode for 20 or 30 years. To be a success, you have to be relaxed. And no one can be relaxed if in his subconscious there is a festering sore stemming from some unhappiness in childhood."

Part of Dr. Bach's research lies in the field of toys.

"We have spent hundreds of hours testing children's reactions to toys," he says. "You think a doll, or a car, or

Lighthouse Motors News Letter

Dear Friends,

This news letter is being addressed to you as that you may have at least some idea of the Services that LIGHTHOUSE MOTORS have to offer you. If what you are seeking is not in this letter then please drop in and see us next time you are in town. It is almost certain that we will be able to fix you up.

As you have no doubt noticed the family of "AUSTIN CAR" cars is rapidly growing. These cars are certainly proving their worth during these rigorous winter conditions. To date the demand for cars has been so great, that it has been impossible to keep a demonstrator at Lighthouse Motors, but now this difficulty has been overcome and if any of you are in anyway interested in these cars then do not hesitate to look us up we will be only too pleased to give you a demonstration. If you are unable to get into town then please drop us a card and we will arrange to call on your home.

A word to our friend the farmers. The Austin half ton one ton pick ups are now becoming available in small numbers. These sturdy, lively little vehicles are ideal for the farm, they are immensely strong and have an extremely comfortable driving cab, if you are interested then call on us soon, because the supply is short.

Our Machine Shop is now going full blast and can handle all the work you may care to send us. No job is too large or too small.

We can promise precision work of the highest order and a far speedier service than you have so far been able to obtain from any other Machine Shop. Next time you have a machining job ask us for an estimate. If you are in the habit of using one of the other local Garages to do your overhaul jobs then remember we will be only too pleased to give an estimate for the machining. Our prices are strictly competitive.

Use your own local Machine Shop and save both time and Freight on your overhaul jobs. We guarantee to turn out Precision work in accordance with the highest standards of British Engineering.

Our Grease Shop, Garage and Paint Shop are now ready to handle all classes of work, they are fitted out with the latest type of equipment to ensure maximum efficiency.

A word for the paint shop. During the present world shortage of Automobiles many people who would like a new car are having to go without for another year or so. Have you thought of having your old car rejuvenated to help it last through these years. We can give you a guaranteed paint job on your car at a reasonable price. This is well worth considering.

We have now installed the complete equipment for undercoating your car, if it is an older car we can steam clean it first and tighten it up to do away with the rattles before undercoating. As for new cars, all thinking owners will have this service, thereby greatly prolonging the life of their vehicles and also cutting down costly repairs at a later date. Your car which is expected to give first class service, under all road and weather conditions, deserve this attention. Don't hesitate to ask for an estimate next time you are in town.

By the time this letter reaches you, we will be stocking the latest model of a Universal fitting car and truck radio. These radios are a boon to those who habitually make long journeys as they help to keep in touch with your favourite programmes. Your family will be overjoyed with them when the piling season starts in a month or two time. These radios are now cheaper than they have ever been before and are a worthwhile investment.

Are you counted among the many thousands who dread night driving, because of the thoughtlessness of the other fellow who omits to dim his lights, or leaves this courtesy until it is too late. It is a problem that has worried our scientific men for many years, but now it has been solved, and spectacles with a special type of lens are available, which enables you to laugh at the approaching car lights. These spectacles enable you to see right through them and thus you do not suffer from that temporary blindness which leads to disaster. This night driving safety can be purchased for an extremely reasonable price. Ask our Serviceman about it.

That is all for now folks, although you will be hearing from Lighthouse Motors, the sign of Efficient and Quality Automobile Service, again before long.

Wishing you all the very best of luck for your 1949 driving. We remain, Yours truly,

GOVERNMENT PLAN WILL REORGANIZE DUTCH FARMLANDS

The Hague—Agriculture in the Netherlands is to be totally reorganized to make it independent of imports from other areas and release as much farmland as possible for industrialization and general economic improvement.

"All forms of agrarian production are to be greatly increased—especially the growing of cattle fodder—aid the new activity is to be accompanied by guarantees of remunerative marketing."

Since the war ended all planting and cropping plans have been defined and controlled by the government. The new plan will not only free the farmer from these controls but will give him greater freedom by simplifying such restrictions as are to remain.

In place of the existing system of "guiding prices" for example, the government will fix basic prices of a number of processed goods and this "crucial conditions to ensure the profitable production of foodstuffs."

In this way the Dutch farmer will be assured of a steady price level. Within certain limits, price fluctuations will be possible on the home market. But there will be no question of any "free play" of economic forces.

Whatever freedom there is, except for a few national restrictions, will be the result of the farmers' own plans and decisions.

Dutch farmers are to be protected against excessive price fluctuations in foreign markets.

Encourage Potato Growers

Encouragement is to be given to the export of potatoes and farmers are being told that they must realize that potatoes will also play an important role as pig fodder.

The new process of preserving potatoes for fodder for hogs and pigs by "steaming" them—putting them into huge boilers for 20 minutes at 220 degrees Fahrenheit—is to be encouraged. Financial help in the form of a 50 per cent subsidy will be given to any farmers who wish to build steam installations.

At present, there are more than 200 of these plants in various parts of Holland with a total capacity of 200,000 pounds.

Plans are being drawn up to increase the sugar beet crop to ensure that the present production of 240,000 tons will be increased to Holland's total annual self-sufficiency requirement of 280,000 tons. Such an increase is well within the handling capacity of home sugar factories.

A more difficult problem to solve is that of cattle fodder. At least one-third of pre-war imports of animal foodstuffs will now have to be replaced by increased domestic production.

The government plan is to assist the marketing of home produced food-der at reasonable prices rather than to fix definite prices.

Special allowances in the form of subsidies and grants to farmers amounting to about $24,000,000 in three years will be met by extra taxes just levied on tobacco, automobiles, ice cream and other "luxury" goods.

A questionnaire had been sent to more than 15,000 permanent employees of students to determine what job openings could be expected in the spring, the requirements for these jobs, and the remuneration. As employers returned these questionnaires, job lists would be compiled and sent to universities. The lists would be amended regularly up to the end of the university year.

In addition to finding temporary summer employment for undergraduates, the survey also aimed at finding permanent positions for members of the 1949 graduating class.

The National Employment Service stands ready to assist employers in such matters as arranging interviews with students at the universities.

Canada has more than 125 species of trees, of which 33 are "softwoods." Only about a dozen of the hardwoods are of much commercial importance and about 80 per cent of our merchantable timber is of softwoods.

der to obtain practical experience in the course of obtaining their degrees. Mr. Mitchell said that employers had been the first to stress the value of such training for those who, in many cases, will become their permanent employees or graduates.

The Minister pointed out that a large proportion of the students must earn during their vacations in order to finance their studies. This applied particularly to veterans, who draw living allowances only while they are actually attending university.

Many students, also, needed specific types of summer employment in order to obtain practical experience in the course of obtaining their degrees.

GERALD

The last two meetings of the Farm Forum were on the subject of insurance. The first, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Myrland, dealt with fire, accident and life insurance. Members felt that the cost of accident insurance is extremely high in Alberta. A short recreation period was enjoyed. Lunch was served by Mrs. Myrland to the 54 people present.

The change in the weather caused a much smaller attendance at the second meeting which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Rattray. The subject for discussion was on social security and death with such misadventures as Family Allowance, Unemployment Insurance and Old Age Pensions. One question asked was "How should we handle the problem of old age pensions?"

Incidentally, the Farm Forum Guide for Feb. 2nd in reviewing what the forum said on November 15th, 1948, on the subject "I was by the Paper."

has this to say: "The weekly Wainwright Star devoted a full-length column, edited on December 18th to the suggestions made by the local Assn. and General Forum, regarding weekly papers."

Mr. E. Campbell has made two trips to Edmonton lately. On one he was accompanied by Mr. G. Monopart, on the other by his sister, Miss Clara Campbell.

When temperatures dip to 40 and 45 below it is really cold. It seems a long time since we have had such severe cold, lasting so many days.

In spite of the cold, 10 members of the Gerald Club met at the home of Mrs. A. LaFrance on the afternoon of Thursday, Jan. 25th. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. L. Myrland. Roll call was "My Favorite Magazine and Why." Mrs. Myrland reported that a second radio had been bought and installed in the Wainwright hospital. The contest was given by Mrs. C. Birch and won by Mrs. T. Rattray. Lunch was served by Mrs. LaFrance.

MIDGET HOCKEY

The two Wainwright Midget Hockey Teams played a couple of games this week with the Maraden's side winning the Thursday game 5-3, while the Saturday morning game ended in a three all draw. The teams certainly looked smarter in the Saturday game as they wore their new uniforms for the first time. These were made available through the generosity of the Wainwright Board of Trade, and the boys appreciate this fine gesture. Whether the calibre of play will improve as a result of the new look is a debatable point, but good or bad, they at least look handsome.

The scoring for Carter's side has been well dominated by the Harewood-Hartley-Caron line but this trio can be even more effective still if they will capitalize on every opportunity to shake a player loose, with a well directed pass rather than do a stick-handling exhibition and lose the puck or put their wings offside. Johnny Wear, although not much bigger than the average he wears, has been doing some fine defensive work back of the blue line. Just keep your head up when you make those passes, Johnny. Smith has played well in the nets.

For the Maraden's the line of Sheffield-Rasmussen-Maraden has been doing most of the scoring. They can get better results still if they will spread out and keep to their positions. There is a tendency to gang after the puck and too often a good pass goes begging in front of the net for want of a forward who is out of position. On the defense Mitchell and Leggett have been doing some grand checking with the latter retreating his forwards away with well-timed passing. Torry and Allott have done good work while Pitrus in goal has been steady.

A very interesting contest was conducted by Mrs. Florence Bacon. The first was to get words beginning with the three letters C A R with cune. This was won by Mrs. Kottoberts. The second contest just as interesting but more complicated was won by Mrs. Laycock.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. M. Findlay served a very delicious supper which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Board of Trade Hold Annual Meeting

the agricultural committee in which he carried on the discussion of the matter. He stated that according to regulations it was necessary to undertake any guarantee. The fair he said, would have to embrace both stock, horticultural and household exhibits, and a grant of half the prize money paid up to $500 would be provided by the government.

Ken Torry, in reporting for the Trade and Industry Committee, said he assumed their duty was to do our own promote as much activity as possible. One of the items of activity during the year had been the fostering of the community picture in the bureau park, which while not a direct act of the board of trade, had found its assistance valuable.

Rural electrification had also come in for considerable attention and progress had already been made. He read a letter from the Calgary Power Co. from which it appeared that line work should be started soon, and that this project should be well developed as soon as materials became available.

He made brief mention of the banquet in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. Sanders.

He also made reference to the current advertising which had been carried out in connection with their efforts to attract new business men and tradesmen to Wainwright, which had resulted in a number of favorable replies, but to date no new businesses had been established.

He stated the case of one tradesman in the east, who had written him stating that he was all packed and ready to come to Wainwright. Unfortunately however, he was in a line of business that was already well looked after in Wainwright, and it was necessary to have him cancel his laudable plan.

Mr. Morgan, who reported for the Military Camp Committee stated that a very satisfactory liaison had been maintained between the military authorities and the P.M.C. committee when the P.M.C. was being built.

Dr. Wallace then reported on the P.M.C. and its progress. Referring to the former he said that the first section was up and that he felt it wise to complete work on this section before undertaking any further work.

He referred to the present hockey developments in Wainwright, stating developments in Wainwright, showing how the board of trade, working with the P.M.C. and the businessmen of town were sponsoring various teams.

He said that while most of the players lacked experience, there was every possibility of building up strong teams in town for the future.

Work on organizing teams should be started the summer before they were to play, he believed.

F. Maddex then reported for the Highway and Transport Committee. They had had a rather quiet year, but he reported that they had tried to make arrangements to have a large Wainwright sign painted on the top of some prominent building as an air survey and survey.

Mr. Simonson then gave a summary of the work for the year referring to the library grant, street numbering, water and sewer survey, welcome signs, the hospital opening, the gift provided for the first baby born in the hospital, the dealing with the matter of the Harewood community, the proposed floodlighting of the front of the Post Office, new businesses, the ice carnival and other items.

In all it appears that the Board of Trade has put in a very active year, and their efforts, which have indeed called for the sacrifice of a lot of time, have been rewarded.

In the election of officers Dr. Bradley was chosen as president for the coming year. To support him he will have J. Mitchell as vice-president, Mr. Humphries as secretary and W. Coleman as treasurer.

Committee heads were elected as follows:

Membership—J. Mitchell.
Entertainment—J. Morgan.
Civic Improvement—Ken Torry.
Publicity—Dr. J. D. Wallace.
Celebrations—John Davidson.

Speaking in connection with the Agricultural section Ken Torry urged the value of holding a cattle show, and take the lead in efforts to establish an Agricultural Society at this point.

J. S. Robbins was named as head of this committee, with F. W. Maddex as assistant.

Mr. Hissett, president of the Buffalo Park Grazing Association was called upon to speak with reference to the proposed agricultural fair, and stated that he thought it could and should be a good thing if he said that while it would naturally have to go before the membership, he felt sure that the Grazing Association would be willing to give a grant toward the fair should one be held.

Referring to the grazing area of the park, he said that the Alberta Government had given their assurance that no deal would be entered into with the military authorities unless they had adequate provision for the stock now pastured in the park.

He made reference to the importance of stock to the welfare of the farmer of the district, underlying the urgent need for adequate pasturage.

Mr. L. W. Smith was then named as head of the Trade and Industry Committee and F. Armstrong, named for the Military Camp Committee. Stan Ryan for the Sports and P.M.C. committee and Mr. MacGregor for the Highway and Transport Committee wound up the elections.

PLAXTONVILLE

A large crowd attended the wedding dance held at Gilt Edge Park Hall on Friday, January 14. The bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Decker, recently married in Edmonton and after returning from their honeymoon are residing on the groom's farm in the district here.

A shower in honor of Mrs. N. Decker was held on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. Olson, where the bride was the recipient of many lovely gifts presented to her in a decorated tub. Mrs. Decker suitably thanked those present, they contents and games were enjoyed. Later a lovely lunch was served by the hostess.

The Ladies Gilt Edge Welfare Club held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed Plaxton with 19 members present in spite of the severe cold weather. The contest given by Mrs. C. Hines was won by Mrs. D. Gardiner. A lovely lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Plan to attend the dance scheduled for February 11th at Gilt Edge Park Hall. Everybody welcome.

FABYAN

Gordon Whitley, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Whitley, went on an expeditionary last week. He came through in flying colors and proved himself a tough little soldier and expects to be home in a day or so.

The Fabyan Curriers came home from Irma Hospital, second in grand challenge. Xepi Silverware was the prize.

The dance held at Fabry, Friday gave the Ladies a good start towards their "goal". The sum of $21.15 was raised. Thanks people for turning out despite below zero weather.

Mr. Coffin of Irma is spending this week visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. Fraser.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Klemmeyer and Ted and Bobbie were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Touchette.

Mrs. McCaghy has her mother visiting this week. Mrs. Kribb has been in hospital for the past ten days but is feeling much better again and plans to return to her home in Edmonton in a few days.

Word from Mr. Adams at Chicago, Ill., reports having a wonderful holiday.

IN MEMORIAM

P.M.C. Annual Meet

Held Last Week

Re: Building Accounts 15000.00

Town of Wainwright (Trust) 1611.30

Re: Surplus Materials 273.11

Cash in Bank 24.00

Total $16948.17

Motion Wilson-Tenkey that Treasurer's report be accepted. Carried.

On motion of Dr. J. D. Wallace the

P.M.C. Society tendered a hearty vote of thanks to Treasurer Armstrong for the great amount of work he took up on himself in the building supervision and in the operation of the P.M.C. This is an outstanding example of public service. Carried unanimously.

On motion of Mr. Secretary and

Armstrong that the P.M.C. Society

tender a vote of thanks to Mr. E.

Eugene Torry, the general contractor for the manner in which he expedited and made possible the erection of the

P.M.C. arena section in such record time and the fine spirit of liaison with the Building Committee. Carried unanimously.

With the call for nominations the seasonal lull occurred and on motion of Davison-Robinson the 1948 slide was re-elected with power to replace any positions vacated. Secretary Torry voted "aye".

The Secretary reported for a Committee set up at the last Executive meeting to enquire into the evident duplication of auditorium and gymnasium facilities projected in the town

Mr. Simonson gave his personal opinion. After a full discussion it was the feeling of the meeting that the School Board should be pressed to provide these facilities on an adequate scale for the town's present needs.

Motion Bradley-Simonson that no

construction of Plan A of P.M.C. be undertaken until auditorium and gymnasium facilities have been clarified in the Town of Wainwright. Carried.

Chairman T. Leimore reported for the rink operating Committee showing receipts of $232.85 from skating tickets and net revenue of $22.45 from hockey games of which $22.00 had been turned over to the Town of Wainwright—with cash on hand of $45.78.

Motion Bradley-Wallace for adjournment.
